DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Buhler (US 4,979,247).

Buhler discloses a machine for treating a track comprised of a first machine frame having an undercarriage for mobility on a track and a second machine frame having undercarriages for mobility on a track. The Examiner is relying on figure 6 for most of the description. The first machine frame 26 is on the right side of figure 6 and is shown to have wheel sets mounted on axles 27. The second machine frame is on the left side of figure 6 and is shown to have an undercarriage with wheels 3 for movement on rails and also has an undercarriage in the form of a caterpillar track 2 for movement on ground without rails. Both undercarriages are connected to the bridge girder through the second machine frame at an end of the machine frame, as shown in figure 6. The caterpillar track undercarriage is vertically adjustable allowing for the machine frame to either ride on rails or on a surface without rails. The first machine frame also has a work cabin disposed on it, shown on the right of figure 6. While not shown it is understood that the machine frames form part of a train and that the train would have a locomotive associated with it to provide motive power for moving the train. The two machine frames have couplings, not numbered, shown at the ends of each frame and adapted to couple the frames together. A bridge girder 18 extends in the longitudinal direction and includes lifting devices 19. The bridge girder has a first end 18a connected to the first machine frame and a second end 22 having flanged rollers adapted to connect and move along guide rails, shown in figure 5, on the second machine frame in a longitudinal direction. The flanged rollers are mounted on an auxiliary undercarriage connected to the bridge girder 18, also shown in figure 6. The second end 22 and rollers are shown on the left of figure 6 resting on the second machine frame. The bridge girder is also telescopically extendable, as shown in figure 8. According to column 3, lines 44-62, the beam 18 can be pivoted in a direction perpendicular to the longitudinal direction of travel. It is understood that a direction perpendicular to the longitudinal direction of travel would be a substantially vertical direction.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5, 6 and 8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 01/31/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant has incorporated the features of claim 4 into claim 1 and cancelled claim 4. Since both claims 1 and 4 were previously rejected they are still rejected now that they are combined since the combination does not further show the novel features of the invention.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Theurer et al (US 5,961,271), Theurer et al (US 5,778,794) and Theurer et al (US 6,422,150) all disclose types of track renewal machines.
